When I click the button "Live Login" I got message "Enter your username and password to open ID" At first, I enter my Windows Live ID with "Yahoo" (I think that it is the Yahoo ID) and I got a message "Open ID login failed - you need to change your login details. Please try again.". Then I choose to login with Yahoo and all works. After that, I have been asked again "Enter your username and password to open ID" and the first option "Live Login" was not possible and "Login with Windows Live" was selected. So the error was: "Enter your username and password to open ID" What is my mistake? Is there any way to force "Login with Windows Live" for this case? Thanks. A: Well you may have to wait a little. It seems as Windows Live is giving those Yahoo users who are logged in a bit of a promotion for using their service, but everyone else has to wait in line.
