SuperHyper Terminal on Win7 bit I'll try to explain it in a very short and friendly way, but don't expect professionalism :D It's a simple program I built, as a simple terminal replacement, that could work as a software firewall, media player, and maybe another tool. That's what I had in mind when making it. Also it's a great winkey+T, alt+tab, win key combo launcher if you're in a hurry. I have used it with a few of my programs, like VLC Player, Spotify, and Discord, it's so smooth and at times the loading of the programs is so fast that you will believe that you're in a terminal window! I know it's little bit of a noob thing, but I hope you'll like it. It's now on github: Please leave your feedback and ideas. Don't forget to follow and like my page and I will give you a free copy. Thanks! Thumbs Up It's so easy to download and use, definitely worth the 10 minutes it takes to download and install. Functional and intuitive I use this program to easily shutdown and restart my laptop and computers. Its functionality allows you to customize your shutdown/restart timing, which I find is more dependable than re-opening an application or using the power management settings. Since the shutdown is initiated through a timer, you are required to be near your computer to initiate a shutdown. Additional features include the ability to view screens, create new notes, and clear existing notes. No downsides It is a wonderful program that is easy to use. I use it to quickly shutdown and restart my laptop computer. Great for on-the-go It is a must have for anyone, 09e8f5149f
