“I had [seen] him as an older gentleman,” said Kevin. “This particular person just happened to be in front of me. I knew it was [his] Grandfather. I remember seeing him. I don’t know why he was there.” The video then cuts back to the shooting. The initial shots come from the brother of Bennett’s girlfriend. That shot kills the victim, who was unarmed and posed no threat to the shooter. Kevin says that, when he saw the gunman was no longer behind his Grandfather and appeared to have turned away from his victim, Kevin quickly intervened. He says he took three or four steps towards the victim and fired his gun at the same time. “When I fired [at the shooter], I was aiming for his knees,” he said. “I didn’t know if I hit him or not. I was shooting for his knees. I was just trying to stop the threat. I didn’t know if he was armed or not. I had no clue.” Bennett says that, in the aftermath of the shooting, he did not think of the victim as a person. “He didn’t deserve to die,” he said. “He didn’t deserve to die. I just don’t understand why it happened.” Kevin says he’s pleased the community reacted with such strong support and that, despite his own depression and grief, he was able to return to work at the high school. “I just hope that the right thing happens,” he said. “I hope that no other family has to go through what I went through.” In the wake of the shooting, KPCC has learned that Bennett had been suspended from the school for 10 days. KPCC has been told by Bennett’s father that he, too, has been suspended from his job
