WebTidy is a powerful HTML reformatter and beautifier. It uses a proprietary HTML-aware parser and transform, which is highly configurable. The HTML WYSIWYG editor allows you to select a piece of HTML and get immediate feedback on how the selected content will be formatted.

HTML WYSIWYG Editor: In WebTidy 3.1.0 you can use the HTML WYSIWYG editor. You can also add code Snippets. Snippets are user-defined snippets of HTML code. Their functionality can be used directly in the WYSIWYG editor, as well as in the navigation items or built-in tags. The navigation items are snippets that allow you to insert a block of text anywhere you want it, without having to copy and paste it from the clipboard. Snippets are available as visual elements or as text. Text snippets are limited to a fixed number of lines and cannot be longer than 24 characters.

WebTidy Built-in Tags and Code Snippets: WebTidy supports more than 200 tags. There are about 1000 and 100 snippets.

HTML/XHTML/ASP Script Formatter: WebTidy is able to format a range of HTML, XHTML and ASP files. There is a built-in parser for the language and a visual WYSIWYG editor, which allows you to select and format any piece of HTML code.

HTML / XHTML WYSIWYG editor: The HTML WYSIWYG editor allows you to select a piece of HTML and get immediate feedback on how the selected content will be formatted. It is possible to insert code snippets into HTML, XHTML or ASP files, or into each line of the selected HTML/XHTML. It is also possible to write own code snippets.

HTML5: HTML

Tidy also recognizes a lot of the HTML5 tags. You can select a block of code and get feedback on how the code will be formatted, including the new elements. CRC checker: WebTidy checks the CRC checker. If necessary, the program can replace the data of the selected file with data from another compatible version of the same file. Localization: The program can be used in 8 languages (English, French, German, Italian, Russian, Swedish, Finnish and Hungarian). The start buttons of the program displays the language into which the software is currently set. On 09e8f5149f

Opening Statement of Dmitry Peskov, Spokesperson of the President of the Russian Federation A. QUESTION: Mr. Peskov, I want to ask about this. You mentioned military actions. Are you ready to fully support all military operations in Syria? MR. PESKOV: Regarding this, the President has already made a statement on this. We have an agreement that we can discuss this question together at the United Nations. Let us take this question together. A. QUESTION: Will you take the money from Aleppo and support the opposition? MR. PESKOV: We have not started to prepare anything. I cannot make any statements about it.

A. QUESTION: Recently, Moscow and Washington has been discussing the idea to create a joint center for the Syrian opposition in Istanbul. Have there been any serious negotiations over this issue? MR. PESKOV: We are aware of the activity that has been initiated there, that certain offices in Istanbul have been set up, but we are not familiar with how it is developing.

A. QUESTION: Mr. Peskov, would you like to comment on Mr. Tillerson's statement from a few days ago, that the U.S. is ready for a different course of action if Russia does not behave in accordance with its Minsk agreement, and if it does not cooperate? What do you think of this statement?

MR. PESKOV: We are dealing with these issues not from the point of view of the possible geopolitical consequences, but from the humanitarian point of view. We are talking about thousands of refugees, millions of refugees, including millions of internally displaced persons. From our point of view, this is the most serious humanitarian crisis on our planet, and no one has the right to miss this opportunity to help people.

A. QUESTION: Mr. Peskov, what is Russia's position on the question of reconciliation among political forces
